

Max Upton, MPA

Max Upton is Director of Building, Housing and Planning at the City of Lorain. Prior to that he served as the City's Safety Director. Before beginning his tenure with the City of Lorain, Max held a number of community and economic development positions in Cleveland, including serving as the Director of Economic Development for MidTown Cleveland, Inc. Max holds a MPA and a BA from Cleveland State University, and has earned certificates in Urban Economic Development from Cleveland State University, and economic development finance and new markets tax credit from the National Development Council.